

ONE-ON-ONE MEETINGS

- When you find yourself making statements of three or four sentences, stop and get back to asking questions.
- When you find yourself pushing your pet theories, you know it's time to get back to asking questions.
- When you find yourself getting emotionally involved, step back, refocus and continue asking questions.